Our parents had been thinking of going on a picnic at a suitable time and in fine weather. At last that day neared. The family picnic was planned. On the appointed day, we all got ready early in the morning. Our mother is very efficient and expert in cooking. She cooked several items — some sweet and some salty. Of course, we assisted our mother in doing all this. All the items were separately packed and put in good looking baskets. At the right time, we hired a taxi and reached the river side of our choice. A carpet was spread on the grassy ground and things placed properly. Some of us enjoyed boating, others played on sand and still others played cards and other games. We took our lunch at noon followed by a cup of tea or soft drink according to taste. After some time, we took a stroll along the river bank. We saw some fishes swimming in clean water and some tortoises going in and coming out of water. We met another family with whom we exchanged tit-bits. We enjoyed a lot and returned late in the evening. We can’t forget the picnic.

The people in plains feel hot in summer compared to those living in hilly region. This is so because plains are hotter in summer than hills. To avoid the scorching heat of plains, our family visited Shimla which is a very good tourist spot for summer. As decided by all we stayed there for about a fortnight. Shimla’s weather was cool because of continual rain and due to its sufficient height from sea-level. During our stay here, we were safe from the burning heat of Delhi. Sometimes, we witnessed the scenes in which clouds appeared touching mountainous range. The multi-storeyed buildings presented good scene when seen from far off distance. Our daily programme was drawn before hand. The day started with different break fast menu. We visited at least one new place a day at the station. We were feeling quite refreshed and toned up after a fortnight. We returned to Delhi. Our school opened on 15th July and we were again busy in our studies.

Our National festival The Independence Day
15th August is a red letter day for every Indian. On this day in 1947 India got independence from the British rule. The freedom struggle was led by Mahatma Gandhi and many great leaders and common man also took part in it. Many Indians lost their lives.
This day is celebrated all over the country with great pomp and show and enthusiasm. In Delhi the great function is held at the Red Fort. On this day, the Prime Minister of India arrives at exact 7.30 a.m. People greet the P.M. with cheers and slogans. He inspects the guard of honour. Then he unfurls the National Flag from the ramparts of the Red Fort. A salute of 21 guns is given to the National Flag.

After the salute of guns the Prime Minister speaks to the people about the country’s projects, programmes and achievements during the year. He asks the people for their cooperation in solving the problems that face the nation. He requests the people to stand united against any attempt to divide the country. Once again he asks the people to preserve the freedom and unity of the country. At the end of his speech he asks the people to repeat ‘Jai Hind’ three times. With the singing of National Anthem the function comes to an end.

The whole programme is telecast by the Doordarshan. People from all nooks and corners of the country come to watch the Independence Day function at the Red Fort. Children come very early to take part in the celebration. This function is also celebrated in all the capitals of every Indian State and Union Territory. Chief Ministers deliver speeches at the capitals of their state in place of the Prime Minister. All pledge to sacrifice everything to protect India’s freedom and integrity.

OUR NATIONAL FLOWER

Lotus or Water Lily is the National Flower of India. It is an aquatic plant with broad floating green leaves and bright fragrant flowers that grow only in shallow waters. The flower grows in murky waters and rises on a long stalk above the surface to bloom glorious. Untouched by the impurity, lotus symbolizes the purity of heart and mind. Based on the colour of its flower, it is divided into two types, the red lotus flower and the white lotus flower.

Lotus occupies a significant place in Indian mythology. It is associated with the goddess of wealth Maha Lakshmi, who brings prosperity, purity, chastity and generosity. She is the embodiment of beauty, grace and charm. She sits on a fully blossomed lotus flower, symbolizing purity, beauty and everything that is good.

The lotus is useful to us in many kinds. The seed, the leaf and the stem are edible and also can be used as medicine. The seeds can last for many years and still remain perfect for re-germination, as such it is a symbol of strong vital force that could withstand extremely adverse conditions. The lotus flower thus represents long life, health, honour and good luck.
A FOOTBALL MATCH

Last month I saw an interesting football match. It was played in the public grounds, between the S.M. School and B.N School. There were countless spectators. There were students from both the schools. The match started at 4 p.m. Mr. Sriram acted as the referee. The teams entered the field, at the sound of the whistle. There were loud cheers. The players wore their respective uniform. They looked active and smart. The game was fast from the start. The forwards of the S.M. School team combined well. They were in complete control of the ball. They made many attacking moves. They tried to kick the ball into the goal of B.N School many times. The B.N. School played a very defensive game. Their goalkeeper did his job extremely well. He defied every attempt to score. But still the forwards of the S.M school found a gap and scored a goal. There was jubilation in the crowd. Soon it was half time. The players of both the teams were served with light refreshments. Soon the players regained their lost spirits. After the interval both the teams played with renewed vigour. The B.N School played a good game. But they were against a superior team. The B.N School players pressed very hard but they were unable to score. The game did not slow down till the last minute. The players of the S.M School were carried on the shoulders by their schoolmates. The students were wild with joy. I enjoyed the match very much. The better team had won the match.

The Christmas

All the Christian countries around the world celebrate Christmas with joy and enthusiasm. It is also called X-mass. In India too this festival is celebrated with gaiety. As India has a sizable population of Christians, the festivities of this festival are almost the same as Dusshera and Diwali. Christmas falls on the 25th of December every year. It is the date on which the Christians believe that Jesus Christ was born. Houses and churches are cleaned and white-washed. They are decorated with flowers, banners and buntings. The alter of Jesus Christ and Mother Mary are decorated with candles and flowers. A separate cradle is made for the infant Jesus in the courtyard of the church.

After the midnight Mass, or prayers at the church, the Christians go home and feast. They decorate their homes with coloured lights and a Christmas Tree. At the foot of this tree they pile gifts for each other. Small children hang stocking near their beds, because they believe that Santa Claus will come in the night and place gifts in it. People hold parties and dinners to celebrate this occasion. They sing Christmas hymns and Christmas carols. This festival comes to an end amidst fun and laughter.

Annual Day

This year our school celebrated the annual day on the 25th of January. Preparations for this day started many days earlier. There were many cultural items to be prepared. Several students took part in these programmes. They worked very hard, as they wanted to give a good account of themselves. The Education Minister was the chief guest of the function.

The school was tastefully decorated. A canopy was put up in the school compound. Flower pots were placed all along the corridor. A dais was erected at the end. Many rows of chairs were arranged for the guests. The chief guest, the Principal, the Chairman and the Manager of the school committee were seated on the sofa-sets placed on the dais.

At exact 4 p.m the chief guest arrived. He was received at the school gate by our Principal. The Manager welcomed him with a bouquet of flowers. The school band played a welcome tune in his honour. The N.C.C Cadets presented a guard of honour. He was taken to the Pandal. All got up to honour him. Young children began the programme with a prayer. Then more cultural items followed one after the other. Everybody clapped and cheered the participants. They had a spell binding performance.

The Principal read out the annual report. The Chief guest gave away prizes. It was followed by a speech delivered by the chief guest. He extolled students, teachers and Management for proving quality education and sports. He told the students of the importance of their role in the society and wished them success. The Principal thanked the chief guest and the audience for their active support and encouragement. Then the chief guest was escorted to his car in a proper manner. Soon after his departure the programme came to an end. It was great success.

A Visit to a Museum

I got a chance to visit the Kolkata museum with my friend. It is a very big museum. Its building has many big rooms. They were neat and clean. The exhibits were properly arranged. All the articles were clearly visible. It has many items collected from various parts of the country and even foreign lands. There were various items of science, arts, history, robes, weapons etc.
On the left side of the entrance there is hall. It has a big collection of mammals of many types. There were dogs, cats, cows and so many other mammals; there were many extinct mammals too. They throw light on the evolution of life in the universe. In another room there were specimens of birds. Next to this room were housed some specimens of reptiles.

Then we went to a large room where we saw specimens of rocks. There were ores in their raw forms. It gave us a good knowledge of the earth and its wealth. Then we moved on to another hall. There were excavated articles brought from different sites. We saw potteries, picture tablets, statues, bangles and many other objects. These tell us about the deep insight of the culture and the way of living of the ancient civilization.

There were many specimens of handicraft brought from all over the world. These collections deal with a large span of time. Here we learnt the story of the development of handicraft. The Kolkata museum is the storehouse of much information. We enjoyed watching it. It increased our knowledge in many ways.

Our National Animal

The Tiger is India’s National Animal. It is one of nature’s masterpieces, a creature of beauty and grace. It rivals only man in its power and cunning. It is a royal looking animal known for its magnificence, grace, power and agility.

It is the largest in the cat family; some measuring upto thirteen feet long and weighing as much as three hundred kilos. Its powerful canine teeth nearly the size of a man’s finger can kill even large prey in an instant. This tiger is a rich-coloured, well-striped animal with a short coat.

The combination of grace, strength, agility and enormous power has earned the tiger great respect and high esteem. Out of eight races of the species known, the Indian race known as the Royal Bengal Tiger, is found throughout the country except the north-western region, and also in the neighbouring countries such as Nepal, Bhutan and Bangladesh. It occupies a variety of habitats from dry open jungles, humid ever-green forests to mangrove swamps.

There are very few tigers left in the world today. A decade ago the tiger population in India had dwindled to a few hundreds. The Government of India, under its Project Tiger programme, started a massive effort to preserve the tiger population. Today, thanks to Project Tiger, India’s population of tigers has considerably increased.

The crane was so much annoyed with the peacock that it thought of having a revenge. One day it challenged the peacock for a flight. At the mutually agreed day and time, both started the flight. The crane flew very high but the peacock could not. As such, the peacock felt so much ashamed that it never dared to brag again.
